THE STORY BEHIND THE WORLD-CLASS BANK

The Karad Janata Sahakari Bank, Karad was first established on the 22nd of October 1962 by late Mr Vilasrao Patil (Vatharkar). Over the years, the bank has emerged as one of leaders in its sector. A symbol of the dedication and trust of its various contributors and supporters, the bank now has over 30 branches spread all over the state of Maharashtra.

With utmost priority to their vision, it is preferred by customers of various walks of life like corporates, medium businesses, upmarket retail customers, development banking for small businesses, mass markets and rural markets. They provide proactive banking services to niche markets globally, while providing cost-effective, responsive services to others as a development bank and in doing so, meet the requirements of all stakeholders.

With a mission to bond with the clients and fully understand their needs, the pre-design phase involves many stages of discussion and a thorough study of the site of the project. Adding to that they also discuss in depth, the core values, mission and vision of the client to align the design ideas with the same. Space utilisation plan, sketches, 3D views, concept theories for every area, technological features, updates materials and aesthetic mark-ups were some of the processes employed in the pre-designing phase of the project. This stage is given utmost importance and developed with great care by the architects to ensure a high-quality outcome. The project uses world-class materials to achieve a flawless output in all areas of the project.

With a grand arched entrance, the wall panel features the image of the founder. With top-class technological systems, the bank is a modern wonder. A 100 sq ft store room is creatively hidden behind the cabin of the senior officer for important files. A large pantry is one of the unique features of this bank. The bank also features special guest room facilities for auditors. The well-thought out space has an exclusive conference room with a direct view of the Chairman heading the meeting, for a comfortable arrangement.
